BACKGROUND—

In July 2002, the Siemens Corporation initiated installation of a new Computer Aided Dispatch, Records Management System (CAD, RMS) and Mobile Data System for the Des Moines Police and Fire

Departments. The Fire Department was placed on the Siemens data system for testing and to replace their dysfunctional mobile status system, which was dismantled when the data system was installed. The Seimens mobile data system failed to provide the dependability required of a public safety data system. The contract with Siemens was terminated and a new vendor was identified. The installation of the new data system requires the Fire Department be removed from the Siemens system and connected to the new system.
